Item 4 - Services, Fees and Compensation

Rize Advisors, LLC (also referred to as "Rize", "Advisor", "us", "our", "we") is a Registered Investment Advisor ("Advisor") which offers this wrap fee program through an online software program available on our website to our advisory clients. We are registered through and regulated by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

Wrap Fee Program

Rize provides web-based investment advisory services to individuals. We currently provide our web-based services in programs that bundle or "wrap" services (investment advice, custody, etc.) together and charge a single fee.

Through this program, you will use our web-based software to create a goal-oriented, automated saving and/or investing plan and manage it within your financial parameters to meet your financial goals. We will serve as the investment advisor through our web-based program to provide guidance as to the allocation of your total savings to help you accomplish your specific financial goals. You will input information such as your age, income, and financial goals and objectives into the system via an interactive questionnaire. Based on the information you provide, the software will analyze your situation and provide you with a recommended saving and investment strategy available through our website. You may elect to use the recommended strategy, or you can customize, within certain limits, your savings strategy to better fit your needs as you determine.

As part of the investment advisory services, the software will:

- Assist you in setting financial goals and objectives
- Monitor and track your savings plan
- Update you on your progress towards your savings goals
- Advise you on strategies to increase your saving rate
- Build a savings profile for you
- Allow you to invest in select securities

You are obligated to enter any new information into the web-based application promptly when your financial situation, goals, objectives, personal circumstances, or needs change.

The funds in your account will be held in a separate account, in your name, at an independent custodian, and not with us. All accounts managed through the application are required to use Apex Clearing Corporation ("Apex") as the independent custodian. We will not have the authority to manage client accounts on a discretionary basis and cannot trade in your account. Funds in client accounts may be held in cash and/or select securities.

You will also receive our electronic Advisory Agreement detailing the services you will receive, fees you will be charged, and the conditions of the relationship.

Fees and Compensation

A wrap fee program allows you to pay a specified fee for financial planning services.

Rize customers who use only its savings functionality choose the fee that they pay each month for the use of Rize's services on a person-by-person basis. The maximum fee allowed is as follows: for accounts under $5,000, the client may choose to pay a fixed fee of up to $10 per month. For accounts of $5,000 or more, the client may choose to pay a fee of up to 2.5% annually of the account balance. The chosen fixed fee will be charged monthly, in arrears, and will be billed within the first two weeks of the month for the previous month's services. You will authorize the custodian to directly debit fees from your account held at the custodian and to pay us.

Rize customers who use both its savings and investment functionalities pay a minimum monthly fee of \$2.00 per month plus an annual fee of 0.25% of their assets under management ("AUM") through Rize that are allocated to investment goals (i.e., assets allocated to savings-only goals are not included for purposes of this AUM fee) calculated and charged monthly in arrears (i.e., $0.25\%/12 \times$ investment goal AUM).

Most Rize customers pay fees that are significantly less than the maximum allowed. We believe our wrap fee is reasonable considering the fees charged by other investment advisors offering similar services/programs. Our fees will not be based upon a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of your funds.

By participating in a wrap fee program, clients may end up paying more or less than they would through a non-wrap fee program where a lower advisory fee is charged, but where custodian and brokerage costs are passed directly through to the client by the executing broker. Clients could also create their own savings program, without the Advisor's web-based services. In that case, clients would not receive the services provided by the Advisor or its website which are designed, among other things, to provide guidance and assist in determining the allocation of your total savings toward separate savings and investment goals and create healthy saving habits for life.

Item 5 - Account Requirements and Types of Clients

There are no minimum account size requirements.

The Advisor provides investment advisory services to individuals.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Rize does not charge any performance-based fees (these are fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client). Rize does not perform side-by-side management.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

At Rize, our web-based software is designed to create and execute an automated saving and investing plan for clients with the dual objectives of (1) maximizing the amount of money that a client saves for their specific financial goals and (2) investing the savings for each financial goal on a passive basis according to an asset allocation that is matched to the time horizon for each goal.

As a Rize client, our web-based software will help you create a savings plan consisting of one or more specific financial goals, including saving for short-term goals like an emergency fund, a large purchase, or travel, as well as long-term goals like retirement. You can choose as many goals as you like and can customize each one individually. Setting specific goals will allow you to measure your progress against your savings plan, and seeing such progress provides positive reinforcement to continue saving more to meet your goals.

For each goal, you will choose how much you can commit to save each month, the target amount, and a target date by which to achieve the goal. Based on the time horizon for each goal, our software will recommend an asset allocation consisting of a combination of cash, bonds, and stocks, and you will have the option of accepting that recommendation or choosing a different asset allocation from a provided set of choices. You will also have the opportunity opt-in or opt-out of a set of Rize software features called Power Ups that are specifically designed to help you increase your savings rate over time and reach your goals faster (e.g. one Power Up called Accelerate automatically increases the amount that you save each month by 1%).

As part of creating your savings plan in our system, you will connect your checking account to the individual brokerage account that will be opened for you at our custodian partner, Apex Clearing Corp., and you will choose a saving schedule (e.g. weekly, every other week, monthly), and each month on your chosen dates our system will automatically transfer money from your connected checking account to your individual brokerage account at our custodian partner and will invest your savings according to the chosen asset allocation for each goal. You can also manually transfer money into and out of your account at any time.

At Rize we employ a passive management, asset-allocation based investment strategy, and our goal is to get you exposure to your chosen asset classes on a widely diversified basis while minimizing fees. The portion of the savings for each goal that is allocated to cash will earn interest at the interest rate currently listed on our website. The portion of the savings for each goal that is allocated to fixed income or equities will be invested in a basket of low-fee exchange traded funds (ETFs) that track indices for each asset class. Our recommended asset allocation for a given goal will depend on the time horizon for that goal. Our philosophy is that the longer the time horizon for a given goal, the more risk you can take with the savings for that goal in the name of achieving higher investment returns, with risk being measured by increased exposure to asset classes like equities that have historically shown both higher volatility and higher returns.

Risk of Loss

We cannot guarantee our analysis, methods, or recommendations will yield a return or cause you to meet your savings goals. The recommendations we make for you will not always be profitable nor can we guarantee any level of performance.

Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, we do not have any authority to and do not vote proxies on behalf of clients.

Item 7 - Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers
